

Gregory B. Stanley CFP, CSEC - CEO & Founder Home n Work Mortgages

Gregory B. Stanley is both a Certified Financial Planner (CFP) and also a duly license Mortgage Broker in Canada. He is a well-known expert in private mortgage investing and HELOC opportunities.

Greg Stanley is known as an outgoing, fun speaker and presenter for many years on such topics as: mortgages, private mortgage investments, how to take investments to the next level by using an Eligible Business Corporation (EBC) and Ethical Investing.

He is interested in making good ideas - great and to create a better future along the way not only for financial advisors, but for the clients and prospects that they serve. He works with idea creators, fellow partners, engineers, academics, investors, and managers to maximize shared benefits.

In the money matters world, Greg is the author of the online book called 'The Lemming Effect' that shows borrowers how to pay off their mortgage years sooner - saving a fortune in unnecessary interest payments - to achieve their mortgage freedom date earlier. He is also widely known for his '15 Steps to Safe Private Lending' talks, enabling investors to retire – years early; or live a better financial lifestyle ... starting in 30 days.

Greg shows investors, and borrowers, through their advisors, how to invest wisely. He believes that through knowledge investors can earn predictable high returns in today's financial landscape.

Greg is happily spending his free time writing, being an artist, travelling, boating and scuba diving. Living with his lovely wife Jessica in beautiful Victoria, British Columbia - Greg is also a fixed wing private pilot that is learning to fly gyrocopters in different locations around the world.
